

SteelSky Ventures Project 2025-2026

Contact: Georgia Rounder; georgia@steelskyventures.com

SteelSky Ventures is a leading technology venture fund investing in transformative healthcare companies that improve access, care, and outcomes, with a particular focus on women's health, aging populations, and technology-enabled care. The intern will support the team on projects such as market landscaping and pipeline development, researching emerging companies, mapping the competitive landscape, and identifying new areas of investment opportunity. In addition, the role will involve research into key themes in healthcare innovation, including AI in healthcare, value-based care, and public health approaches to aging and women's health. There may also be opportunities to contribute directly to strategic projects within SteelSky's portfolio companies. This internship offers broad exposure to venture capital investing, healthcare innovation, and public health applications in a fast-paced, mission-driven environment.
